

Brindle 65mm

"The Brindle London Brick presents a rich and varied aesthetic, characterised by its deep brown colour interspersed with subtle reddish undertones.

This blend of hues creates a warmth and inviting presence, making it a versatile choice for contemporary and traditional designs. The brick's heavier texture adds a pronounced tactile quality, enhancing visual interest and depth on building facades.

London Brick has been used to build over five million homes primarily in London and the Home Counties – an icon of the British landscape."
